

DAVID BURNBY RESUMÉ

Prior to becoming a freelance Facilitator, Trainer and Consultant in 2002, David Burnby had over twenty years' experience working in the voluntary sector, initially in the field of community enterprise and worker co-operative development. Following five years as a CVS Chief Officer, he worked for eight years for the national leadership development organisation Common Purpose, originally as Programme Director and latterly as Regional Director.

David was accredited by the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister (ODPM) as a Neighbourhood Renewal Advisor (NRA) in 2003, part of a team of specialists across the country commissioned by local Government Offices to offer advice and support to various Neighbourhood Renewal pathfinder projects. These included Local Strategic Partnerships, New Deal for Communities, Community Empowerment Networks and Neighbourhood Management Pathfinders. On the expiry of the NRA scheme in December 2008, David was appointed as a Local Improvement Advisor with effect from January 2009, one of a panel of specialists offering advice and support to partnerships designing and implementing Local and Multi Area Agreements (the LIA scheme was discontinued in 2011). He was also an Associate Consultant for the Local Government Association's Improvement and Development Agency (IDeA) and latterly, for the Local Government Improvement and Development Agency (LGID).

Since 2007, David has specialised in training and supporting clients in the use of the Outcome Based Accountability™ framework developed by Mark Friedman of the Fiscal Policy Studies Institute (FPSI), Santé Fé with whom he has established a close working relationship. He is recognised by the FPSI and Clear Impact as one of the UK's leading OBA trainers and practitioners. Clients include:

- Local Government Improvement and Development Agency (LGID) including regular input on the Leadership Academy for local council portfolio holders, nationally and regionally and national workshops focussed on Children & Young People, Carers and Adults Services Practitioners. David also regularly contributed towards LGID's Health and Well Being programme at a national and regional level and the Directory of Social Change National Training Programme. He is a regular contributor on the Isle of Wight Council Commissioner Training Programme and has regularly contributed to the Nottinghamshire County Council Leadership Development Programme; the Nottingham Academy Leadership Programme and the Advanced Leadership in an Integrated Children's Service Environment (ALICSE) programme in the East Midlands. He has also provided OBA input for NHS clients on behalf of Primary Care Commissioning (PCC) and for the Ireland East Hospital Group based in Dublin.

David has also provided OBA input to a range of training courses, leadership programmes and conferences. In October 2014, David was the sole UK consultant invited as a contributor at the first RBA Global Summit launching the OBA (RBA) approach in Johannesburg, South Africa. In addition to working with a range of delegates from Southern African States, David also led workshops on the OBA approach to Leadership and Performance Management. He was also involved in the planning group and was a contributor at the third OBA Global Summit which took place in Belfast, Northern Ireland in October 2016. In 2018, David designed and delivered workshops for the Policing and Community Safety Partnerships in Northern Ireland on behalf of the Joint Committee of the Policing Board for Northern Ireland and the Department of Justice focusing on improving reporting and accountability.

Since 2012, David has worked as a Big Local Representative on behalf of Local Trust as part of the Lottery funded Big Local Programme. This involves supporting and advising four local neighbourhood Big Local programme areas in the Yorkshire and Humber region.
